

Brandy (You're a Fine Girl) by Looking Glass (Capo 5th)

[Intro] G

[Verse 1]

G D Em Am F C
There's a Port, on a Western Bay, and it serves, a hundred ships a day.

G D Em Am C G
Lonely sailors, pass the time away, and talk about their homes.

G D Em Am F C
And there's a girl, in this harbor town, and she works, layin' whiskey down.

G D Em Am C G
They say Brandy, fetch another round. She serves them whiskey and wine.

[Chorus 1]

Em C
The sailors say Brandy, you're a fine girl.

Em C
What a good wife you would be.

G D C C C
Your eyes could steal a sailor from the sea... do-do, do-doo...

[Verse 2]

G D Em Am F C
Brandy wears a braided chain, made of finest silver from the north of Spain.

G D Em Am C G
A locket, that bears the name, of the man that Brandy loves.

G D Em Am F C
He came, on a summer's day. Bringing gifts, from far away.

G D Em Am C G
But he made it clear, he couldn't stay. No harbor was his home.

[Chorus 2]

Em C

The sailors say Brandy, you're a fine girl.

Em C

What a good wife you would be.

G D C C C

But my life, my lover, my lady, is the sea... do-do, do-Yeah...

[Bridge]

Em G C D

Brandy used to watch his eyes, when he told his sailor's stories.

Em G C D

She could feel the ocean fall and rise. She saw it's raging glory.

Em F Em C

But he had always told the truth, Lord he was an honest man...

G D C C C

And Brandy does her best to understand... do-do, do-doo...

[Verse 3]

G D Em Am F C

At night, when the bars close down, Brandy walks through a silent town.

G D Em Am C G

And loves a man who's not around. She still can hear him say...

[Chorus 3] 2x's (BUT... Start with "Say Brandy" the 2nd time.)

Em C

She hears him say Brandy, you're a fine girl.

Em C

What a good wife you would be.

G D C C C

But my life, my lover, my lady, is the sea... do-do, do-doo...
