

Shakin' Hands by Mike Adams (Capo 6th)

Intro G-----Em-----C-----G-----

Verse 1

Lord, I come to You with shakin' hands... from a room that feels too small.
There's dust on all my promises... and cracks inside my walls.
I've lived behind my own excuses... let the darkness have its say.
Now I'm standin' in the mornin'... tryin' hard to stay today.

Chorus

If I fall, let me rise again... if I break, help me to mend.
I'm not askin' to be spotless... just a better man than I've been.
Calm me down when I'm shakin'... when the nights are cold and long.
Cause, I'm a sinner still believin'... that my heart can learn this song.

Verse 2

I carry every wrong decision... like a weight around my chest.
I see my younger self still searchin'... never knowin' how to rest.
I've run from truth too many times before... Hid from, what I couldn't face.
But God keeps finding broken people... and He knows me by my name.

Bridge

In the quiet of the night... when I'm honest with my soul.
I feel something gently pullin'... tellin' me I'm not alone.
Every scar is still a lesson... Every tear a step ahead.
If redemption has a doorway... I'll keep walkin' till I'm there. {let fade}

Chorus

If I fall, let me rise again... if I break, help me to mend.
I'm not askin' to be spotless... just a better man than I've been.
Stay beside me when I get lost... when the roads I take are wrong.
Yeah, I'm a sinner still believin'... that my heart can learn this song.

Outro

And if you're listening above me... or somewhere in my chest.
I'm still here, I'm still breathin'... and still tryin' to do my best.
Yeah, I'm still here, I'm still breathin'... and tryin' to do my best. {let fade}
